Seasonal flights to Patagonia and the new Lisbonâ??Rio de Janeiro service expand travel options to South America

SÃ?O PAULO, Sept. 11, 2026 /PRNewswire/ â?? Gol Airlines is expanding connectivity across South America through its network in Brazil. The airline offers European travelers an alternative way to reach southern Argentina through SÃ£o Paulo, either with a connection or by combining the journey with a stay in Brazil.

The seasonal SÃ£o Pauloâ??El Calafateâ??Ushuaia service provides access to two iconic destinations in Argentine Patagonia. El Calafate is the gateway to Los Glaciares National Park and the Perito Moreno Glacier, while Ushuaia, known as the â??city at the end of the world,â?• stands out for its landscapes and as one of the main departure points for Antarctica.

From SÃ£o Paulo/Guarulhos, Gol offers nonstop service to El Calafate, followed by a flight to Ushuaia:

Further strengthening connectivity between Europe and Brazil, Gol will also launch a nonstop service between Lisbon and Rio de Janeiro on September 16, as part of the airlineâ??s intercontinental expansion through its international hub in Rio. Travelers can arrive in Brazil, enjoy Rio for a few days through the Gol Stopover program and then continue to Patagonia via SÃ£o Paulo. International passengers may stay in Rio or SÃ£o Paulo for between 24 hours and three nights at no additional service cost.

Through more than 60 codeshare and interline agreements, Gol also offers connectivity from different European markets to Brazil and onward to other South American destinations.

Tickets are available on Golâ??s website and through travel agencies.
