SHANGHAI, Sept. 8, 2026 /PRNewswire/ â?? Natural Field, a technology-driven nutraceutical ingredient solutions provider, announced the expansion of its NF TriSolveÂ® branded nutraceutical solution platform into the sleep wellness category with the introduction of NF TriSolveÂ® SleepRestore Complex.

NF TriSolveÂ® represents Natural Fieldâ??s branded nutraceutical solution platform, designed to transform functional ingredient expertise, scientific research and formulation capabilities into targeted wellness solutions for global nutrition brands.

The platform integrates multiple stages of innovation, including ingredient strategy, formulation development, scientific evaluation and application support, helping partners develop differentiated products across emerging health categories. Rather than focusing solely on individual ingredients, NF TriSolveÂ® is built around the connection between specific wellness needs, functional ingredients, formulation strategies and product applications.

The introduction of NF TriSolveÂ® SleepRestore Complex represents Natural Fieldâ??s expansion into the growing sleep wellness market. Developed through a solution-oriented innovation approach, the formulation combines multiple functional components into a coordinated concept designed for sleep-focused nutraceutical applications.

Natural Field applies a science-driven development approach to NF TriSolveÂ® solutions by combining research insights, formulation expertise and application considerations to support the development of next-generation nutritional products.

Building on this foundation, Natural Field commissioned Hunter Biotech to conduct further preclinical evaluation studies. Related research encompasses evaluations at the cellular level, analyses of active ingredients, and assessments using in vitro models. These studies aim to explore formulation
