COMUNICATO STAMPA - CONTENUTO PROMOZIONALE

AMSTERDAM, April 14, 2026 /PRNewswire/ - i4E B.V. today announced itself as a new global innovation and technology licensing platform focused on protecting and licensing market-ready technologies with international reach.

Drawing on extensive experience in global patented technology licensing and management, i4E aligns and supports the conversion of inventions into meaningful, defensible propositions suitable for worldwide licensing and scalable deployment. This is delivered through strong patent drafting, filing, prosecution, and management, supported by disciplined governance and long-term strategic involvement in licensing and monetization. These combined enable i4E to provide a structured framework to protect, position, and commercialize innovations, efficiently.

Its model is distinctive as it combines IP expertise with demand creation through collaborative development and operational involvement rather than serving solely as a holder of rights.

A prominent company within i4E's portfolio includes i4F, an established global technology licensing leader in the global home improvement industry. Additional acquisitions are advancing and will join i4E's portfolio in due course.
