LIMASSOL, Cyprus, March 19, 2026 /PRNewswire/ - CFD broker Mitrade has secured five international industry awards for 2026 as European markets contend with heightened sensitivity to monetary policy and energy supply risks.

European markets are grappling with a significant energy price shock following the escalation of conflict in the Middle East, with European gas futures contracts have soaring by close to 70%. The ECB now faces a complex policy dilemma, as traders have rapidly shifted from pricing in rate cuts to a 50% chance of a rate hike.

The oil-driven inflation surge has gripped bond markets, leading to sharp repricing of rate expectations and increased volatility across euro-denominated assets. While ECB Chief Economist Philip Lane warned a prolonged war could reduce economic growth, policymakers are keeping options open, stating the central bank is in a "good place" to handle the shock, Reuters reported.

Kevin Lai, Vice President of Mitrade Group, said these developments reinforce the need for infrastructure supporting leveraged CFDs.

"As European markets adjust to converging rate policy, sovereign issuance and energy volatility, leverage sensitivity is intensifying. Mitrade continues to strengthen its execution oversight and risk management frameworks to support disciplined and informed trading activity.

Mitrade Group has secured the following awards:

These recognise multi-asset access, trader education and regulatory standards.
