AUCH, France, June 25, 2026 /PRNewswire/ - TEKLYNX International, known for helping supply chains work with their RFID and barcode labeling software solutions, today announced being selected as the AIDC Company of the Year by SupplyTech Breakthrough, an independent market intelligence organization that evaluates and recognizes standout technology companies, products, and services in the global supply chain technology and logistics industry.

TEKLYNX offers tiered solutions and licensing options that meet the labeling needs of companies of all sizes. With a user-friendly interface and built-in wizards, TEKLYNX label design solutions make it easy to print accurate and compliant labels.

With TEKLYNX enterprise solutions, companies can automate label printing from their ERP or business system, track label changes and version history, set up automatic electronic label approval workflows, and print labels from anywhere with a browser-based interface.

TEKLYNX also offers a software development kit that provides software publishers and solution providers with a powerful, customizable barcode label printing solution to enhance their existing product offerings.

Backed by award-winning customer support and strong partnerships with printer manufacturers, ERP providers, and application developers, TEKLYNX helps global companies label more efficiently and maintain greater control every step of the way.

"At TEKLYNX, we want to ensure everything we do aligns with our global mission to help the companies within the supply chain work better," said Thierry Mauger, TEKLYNX International President. "We take pride in knowing our software solutions contribute to the growth and success of our customers. Thank you to SupplyTech Breakthrough for honoring us with this award."

The scalable solutions and reliable customer support from TEKLYNX helped them earn this year's AIDC Company of the Year award.
