Corporate Updates

Proposed Dividend

THEON announces that it will propose to the upcoming Annual General Meeting the distribution of a dividend amounting to €0.31 per share, representing a 30% payout ratio of FY 2025 Net Income, at the top of the guidance range. The proposed dividend reflects the company's robust financial performance over the past year and confidence in future prospects. While the total dividend amount of €24.4 million is higher compared to the previous period (FY 2024: €23.8 million), the per share amount is lower vs FY 2024 (€0.34 per share) due to the increased number of shares following the December 2025 Rights Issue. Subject to approval at the AGM, the dividend will be payable in June, with exact dates to be announced in due course.

Exercise of Additional Convertible Loan Option

On 27 February 2026, THEON has exercised its option in Varjo Technologies Oy (VARJO), the Finnish deep-tech company specializing in Virtual Reality and Mixed Reality headsets and applications, committing an additional €5 million under the existing convertible interest-bearing loan agreement, taking the total to €10 million.

Completion of investment in ShockEOS

On 8 April 2026, THEON completed the acquisition of a 30% equity interest in Al Meezan Limited, holding company of ShockEOS. The joint collaboration between THEON and ShockEOS has already resulted in an initial committed contract value exceeding €40 million for the PHYLAX Stabilized Multi-Sensor System. THEON has the option to reach a majority stake, which will be exercised in the next few quarters once certain milestones are achieved.

Inclusion in the AMX Index

As of 23 March 2026, THEON has been included in the Amsterdam Mid-Cap (AMX) Index. This marks another significant milestone for THEON, strengthening its visibility within the European capital markets and broadening its reach among institutional investors.

Ranked among Europe's Fastest Growing Companies by the Financial Times

For the third consecutive year, THEON is included in the Financial Times & Statista FT1000: Europe's Fastest Growing Companies 2026, further validating its sustained high-growth trajectory and strong international expansion.
