New SuiteApp for financial planning and analysis meets Oracle NetSuite SuiteCloud Platform development standards and best practices

NEW YORK, July 9, 2026 /PRNewswire/ â?? Abacum, an AI-native financial planning and analysis (FP&A) platform, today announced that its SuiteApp has achieved the â??Built for NetSuiteâ?? status. The new SuiteApp, built using the Oracle NetSuite SuiteCloud Platform, helps organizations further streamline financial workflows and simplify planning processes.

â??Achieving Built for NetSuite status is a major milestone for Abacum,â?• said Julio MartÃnez, CEO and co-founder, Abacum. â??Finance teams need AI tools that can integrate with existing workflows and accelerate processes. With this SuiteApp, businesses can connect NetSuite and Abacum to further reduce manual data integration, unlock real-time insights, and make faster, smarter decisions.â?•

By combining the power of NetSuiteâ??s leading AI cloud ERP system with Abacumâ??s AI planning capabilities, the Abacum SuiteApp provides an integrated planning experience that helps finance teams further improve the speed and accuracy of budgeting, forecasting, and scenario analysis processes. Building upon NetSuiteâ??s financial management capabilities, the SuiteApp synchronizes NetSuite data to further streamline planning and reporting, automate forecasting and scenario analysis, and increase visibility into planning and performance across finance, revenue, and operations teams.

â??Finance teams need integrated data to power AI tools effectively,â?• said Scott Derksen, vice president, Partnerships and Business Development, Oracle NetSuite. â??This new SuiteApp extends our robust solution for financial management and helps NetSuite customers connect data and AI-powered workflows in a trusted, flexible way to support faster and more efficient financial planning processes.â?•
