COMUNICATO STAMPA - CONTENUTO PROMOZIONALE

HAMILTON, ON, Oct. 15, 2026 /PRNewswire/ - AtomVie Global Radiopharma (AtomVie), a global radiopharmaceutical contract development and manufacturing organization (CDMO), today announced a strategic partnership with Jubilant DraxImage Inc., dba Jubilant Radiopharma (Jubilant Radiopharma) to provide logistics, regulatory, and last-mile distribution services in support of AtomVie's growing portfolio of radiopharmaceutical programs. The collaboration is governed by a Logistics and Regulatory Services Agreement between the two organizations.

Through this partnership, Jubilant Radiopharma will support the receipt, handling, regulatory compliance, and last-mile distribution of AtomVie-manufactured radiopharmaceuticals across its U.S. pharmacy network. The agreement is designed to help streamline delivery to clinical sites while maintaining the high standards of quality, safety, and regulatory compliance required for radiopharmaceutical products.

"As the radiopharmaceutical sector continues to grow, establishing strong logistics and distribution capabilities is essential to ensuring patients and clinical sites receive products reliably and efficiently," said Bruno Paquin, Chief Executive Officer of AtomVie. "We are pleased to partner with Jubilant Radiopharma, whose extensive pharmacy network, regulatory expertise, and commitment to quality make them an ideal collaborator as we expand support for our customers' clinical development programs, build the infrastructure needed to advance future clinical radiopharmaceutical therapies, and further our goal of transforming patients' lives with high quality radiopharmaceuticals."

"Jubilant Radiopharma is committed to advancing the safe, compliant, and reliable delivery of radiopharmaceutical therapies across North America," said Harsher Singh, Chief Executive Officer, Jubilant Radiopharma. "As a trusted partner for therapeutic clinical trials and commercialization, we provide the specialized infrastructure, regulatory expertise, therapeutic dispensing capabilities, and national delivery network required to support radiopharmaceuticals throughout their lifecycle. Our collaboration with AtomVie reflects a shared commitment to accelerating innovation and expanding patient access to the next generation of radiopharmaceutical therapies. The partnership further strengthens AtomVie's integrated service offering. By leveraging Jubilant Radiopharma's established distribution infrastructure and specialized capabilities spanning clinical trials, therapeutic dispensing, and commercialization, AtomVie and its clients will benefit from enhanced access to clinical trial sites and greater operational flexibility as development programs advance.
