COMUNICATO STAMPA - CONTENUTO PROMOZIONALE

IRVINE, Calif., March 03, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) - Lantronix Inc.

(Nasdaq: LTRX), a global leader in compute and connectivity IoT solutions powering Edge AI applications, today announced a strategic distribution partnership with Melchioni Electronics, a Milan-based technology distributor serving the European region. This agreement strengthens Lantronix's go-to-market strategy across Europe and is expected to accelerate regional revenue growth by expanding access to its IoT and Edge AI portfolio.

Under the distribution agreement, Melchioni Electronics will distribute Lantronix's IoT and Edge AI product solutions while providing localized technical and sales support across key European markets, including Italy, Spain, Germany, France, Slovenia and Greece. The partnership leverages Melchioni's established regional presence, multi-country infrastructure and long-standing customer relationships to broaden Lantronix's market penetration.

"The partnership with Melchioni Electronics enhances Lantronix's ability to efficiently scale in Europe by leveraging a well-established regional distributor with deep technical and customer expertise," said Kurt Hoff, chief revenue officer at Lantronix. "As demand for secure, reliable AI and IoT solutions continues to grow, this agreement positions us to expand our customer base, shorten sales cycles and support sustained international growth."

Melchioni Electronics brings decades of experience distributing advanced technology solutions across industrial, embedded and connectivity markets. Its regional footprint and value-added services are expected to support faster adoption of Lantronix's products and services while improving customer engagement and post-sales support.

"We are pleased to partner with Lantronix and add its IoT and Edge AI solutions to our portfolio," said Marco Ghisellini, System Solution Platform manager of Melchioni Electronics. "Lantronix's offerings align well with the needs of our customers, and we see a strong opportunity to drive adoption across the European region.â?•
