XIAMEN, China, April 16, 2026 /PRNewswire/ “Milesight, a provider of AI-powered video surveillance solutions, today celebrates its 15th anniversary, reaffirming its long-term strategy with the theme “Build Deep with V.I.R.”

As the security industry continues to evolve, Milesight emphasizes that sustainable progress is rooted in deeply developed core capabilities. Over the past 15 years, the company has continuously advanced three foundational pillars of modern security systems “Vision, Intelligence, and Reliability” now collectively defined as V.I.R.

Rather than introducing a new direction, V.I.R represents the strategy Milesight has consistently built on and will continue to strengthen.

Under this framework, Milesight is further enhancing:

These capabilities, already established across global deployments, are being continuously refined to meet evolving real-world demands.

[Explore Milesight V.I.R]

“At Milesight, everything we do starts from real-world scenarios and operational needs. We focus on understanding the problem, responding with purpose, and building solutions that precisely match each application. From development to deployment, and through continuous validation and optimization, every step is driven by close collaboration with our partners. Feedback from real projects is not just input, it is what shapes our innovation,” said Alan Shen, CEO at Milesight.

In parallel, Milesight highlights that V.I.R is built on a "Born Open" philosophy, serving as the architectural foundation for future growth. This includes broad compatibility with leading video management systems, deeper collaboration with ecosystem partners, and an open-architecture platform that enables third-party applications and AI algorithms to be deployed directly on cameras.

With this approach, Milesight aims to support greater flexibility, scalability, and innovation across diverse security projects.

Looking ahead, the company's direction remains clear: Build Deep with V.I.R, strengthening the capabilities that already define its technology while adapting to increasingly complex and dynamic environments.
