Automates data reconciliation, saving clinical teams significant cost, time, and effort

BARCELONA, Spain, Oct. 6, 2026 /PRNewswire/ - Veeva Systems (NYSE: VEEV) today announced that Veeva DQS (Data Quality System) has aggregated and cleaned data for more than 1 million subjects in more than 1,000 studies to accelerate the delivery of analysis-ready data and trial insights. With more than 500,000 automated queries, Veeva DQS has saved thousands of hours in data reconciliation for sites and sponsors.

"One key area for us is handling the increasing volume of data generated from our growing number of clinical trials," said Ibrahim Kamstrup-Akkaoui, vice president at Novo. "Veeva DQS can help us manage, format, clean, and prepare this data for submission more efficiently."

Veeva DQS enables next-generation clinical data management with advancements essential for adopting the risk-based strategies recommended in regulatory guidelines, including ICH E6(R3). With innovations coming in Veeva DQS, clinical teams can:

"With increasing data sources and growing protocol complexity, sponsors and CROs are using Veeva DQS to automate data workflows at scale across studies of all sizes," said Pavel Burmenko, lead, Veeva DQS strategy. "Veeva DQS is ushering in next-generation data management, a new level of clinical data innovation that orchestrates risk-based reviews and elevates the role of data managers toward strategic partners."

Recently announced, Veeva Study Builder Agent configures Veeva EDC and Veeva DQS directly from a study protocol for faster and more consistent study builds.
