Recognized for building high-performing organizations, Sorenson brings over two decades of market expansion and client support experience to Woolpert.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 27, 2026 /PRNewswire/ â?? Woolpert has appointed Jen Sorenson as Executive Vice President of Infrastructure, reinforcing the firmâ??s commitment to strategic growth and innovation across its transportation, aviation, water, wastewater, stormwater, and energy markets.

Sorenson brings more than 20 years of leadership experience driving business transformation, growth, and large-scale infrastructure programs throughout the architecture, engineering, and construction industry.

Working closely with Woolpertâ??s executive team, Sorenson will lead the firmâ??s multidisciplinary infrastructure sector, focusing on operational excellence, market expansion, cross-sector collaboration, and client success. She will oversee the sectorâ??s organic and acquisitive growth strategy, strategic initiatives, operational improvements, investments, and business development efforts, helping position Woolpert to address increasingly complex infrastructure challenges and deliver innovative solutions for clients globally.

Throughout her career, Sorenson has led complex infrastructure initiatives spanning transportation, water, federal, and municipal markets. Beginning her career as a licensed civil engineer, she developed expertise in technical delivery, field operations, and stakeholder engagement before advancing into executive leadership roles overseeing operations, strategy, and business development for national and global engineering firms.

Prior to joining Woolpert, Sorenson held senior leadership roles at AtkinsRÃ©alis, AECOM, and Atlas. Most recently, she served as senior vice president of infrastructure at Atlas, where she was responsible for a major business enterprise spanning the western U.S., leading strategic growth, operational performance, and more than 800 employees.

Woolpert President and CEO Neil Churman said Sorensonâ??s collaborative leadership style makes her exceptionally well positioned to guide the firmâ??s continued growth.

â??Jen combines deep industry expertise with a proven ability to build strong teams and drive growth,â• Churman said. â??Her leadership will be instrumental as we expand our infrastructure business, strengthen collaboration globally, and continue delivering exceptional value for our clients.â•

Sorenson said she was drawn to Woolpertâ??s culture, commitment to innovation, and focus on client success.

â??Woolpert is in a tremendous season of growth with an exponential trajectory, and Iâ??ve been inspired by the people and culture Iâ??ve experienced so far,â• said Sorenson. â??Woolpertâ??s people-first philosophy resonated with my own leadership approach. Iâ??m passionate about connecting with my team and supporting their development, and Iâ??m excited to help them achieve their fullest potential, both individually and together.â•
