COMUNICATO STAMPA - CONTENUTO PROMOZIONALE

LONDON, April 20, 2026 /PRNewswire/ - Zadarma, an international VoIP service provider with over 2.5 million users across the globe, has announced that its platform is now fully available in the Italian language. This represents a major milestone for the company that bridges the gap between Italian-speaking users and Zadarma's services. Italian becomes the ninth language available on the platform.

The website, user interface, and all services have been fully translated, and 24/7 customer and technical support is now available in Italian.

This significant platform update also adds to one of Zadarma's recent key releases: AI Voice Agent. The agent can handle calls, reduce team workload, answer common customer inquiries, and transfer calls to human agents when necessary. It operates based on predefined rules and a business knowledge base to provide accurate responses aligned with the company's communication style. The AI voice agent is now available in Italian, along with 22 other languages.

Other recent Zadarma developments include:

These updates and new services show Zadarma's commitment to meeting its customers' changing communication needs. As its service portfolio grows, the company remains committed to providing services in users' native languages, without requiring them to use a foreign language.
